RIDGEWAY GRANDFATHER CLOCKS

Ridgeway Clock Company started producing Grandfather Clocks exclusively in 1960 – making Ridgeway the oldest continuously produced grandfather clock brand in the United States. Our clocks are still made in the United States and crafted to an heirloom standard of quality. Each case is completely sanded multiple times during the extensive finishing process. The hardwoods and exotic veneers used to build our clocks are specified to exacting standards to insure a long lasting work of craftsmanship for years to come. Ridgeway only uses original brass time keeping mechanisms made in the Black Forest region of Germany.

Tens of thousands of Ridgeway Grandfather Clocks are treasured family heirlooms being shared and handed down through the generations. Begin your Families' Legacy with a Ridgeway Grandfather Clock.
