

A photograph of an outdoor furniture set in a tropical setting. On the left is a grey upholstered armchair with a dark, textured frame. To its right is a white, rounded side table holding a small potted plant with yellow flowers, a white mug, and a glass of coffee. The scene is set on a light-colored patio with a swimming pool in the foreground. In the background, there is a white wall with an arched opening, through which lush green tropical plants and a blue sky are visible. The overall atmosphere is bright and serene.
